Not illustrated. 1896 Excerpt: .of life insurance, while the North and East have $2,300,000,000. This is a total of $4,500,000,000, just what is represented by legal reserve companies. Can it be, that the Hon. T. B. forgets that there is some $7,600,000,000 of assessment insurance in come wise. SPECULATIONS are being indulged in as to who will be the successor of the Hon. Jas. F. Pierce in the office of Superintendent of the Insurance Department of New York. The recent election of Mr. Black, the Republican candidate for Governor, points to a change in the head of the Insurance Department. Just who will be the man fortunate enough to enjoy the office for the next three years, with its salary of $7,000 a year, has not yet been determined. THE probability of Mr. Bryan s entering the field of insurance journalism is discredited by Insurance, who says that the rumor lacks confirmation. Should the Hon. William Jennings take up the editorial pen in this line, the result would doubtless be some mity interestin readin . IHAT clever fellow Amicus, who contributes the 1 amusing letters to the Weekly Statement which have made him famous, quotes recently a clause from a policy issued years ago by an old line company which is interesting, as showing the changes which time has effected in this country of ours: This company does not assume risk of death from hostile Indians, runs this unique clause. It would be difficult now-a-days to incur a risk at...
