The actual reason is very simple and easily apprehended. It is because it has precisely the same money uses. Upon analysis it will be discovered that the legal money functions of the present silver dollar are precisely the same as those of the gold coins throughout the United States, and hence, as it has precisely the same money functions, it has the same money value. The purely fiat money theory is founded upon this fact. It is insisted upon by advocates of that theory that value in the material of money is not only unnecessary but often an obstacle which prevents the money from being at all times a perfect measure of values. They insist that instead of having two values, a nominal one and a real one, indicated by the broad black line and the gold value line above it in Diagram 2,...

Reviews

This ebook is fantastic. It is actually written in straightforward terms rather than hard to understand. It's been designed in an extremely straightforward way and it is merely soon after I finished reading through this ebook through which in fact modified me, altered the way I really believe.
